Dr. Todd Cramer serves as superintendent of Maumee City Schools and works with the Maumee community, staff and students to ensure the district is living their mission to invest in every child, everyday, to ensure all students find their success. This is his 23rd year in education entering the field as a teacher and being inspired to serve in a variety of positions including principal, technology director, curriculum director, special education director, and assistant superintendent. Todd believes that the district focus on engaging, empowering and inspiring students will lead to students leaving Maumee High School ready for employment, enlistment and or enrollment in continuing education. Todd has worked at developing the potential of staff and district administration through analysis of qualitative and quantitative data collected over the past few years resulting in the study of servant leadership, individual coaching and strengths based approaches to ensure sustainable growth. Maumee City Schools was awarded a Top Workplace award in 2018 and was recently notified that it was among only 7.8% of districts to receive a Momentum Award from the Ohio Department of Education due to exceeding state expectations in regard to the amount of academic growth students experienced in the past 12 months. Todd holds a Bachelors of Science degree in Special Education, a Masters Degree in Educational Administration as well as doctorate degree in Leadership Studies.
